

About Nevada Blind Children's Foundation

Founded in 2006, by Kevin and Toni Spilsbury, Nevada Blind Children's Foundation is the only nonprofit organization solely dedicated to improving the lives of Southern Nevada children, ages 0-22, who are visually impaired. NBCF provides comprehensive services for children and their families including: advocacy, family support, health services, education and adaptive recreation programs, and life skills and employment training for visually impaired and blind young adults.

Nevada Blind Children's Foundation's programs and services are provided through the generous support of individual and corporate donors. For more information about Nevada Blind Children's Foundation visit www.nvblindchildren.org.

Mission: Nevada Blind Children's Foundation provides the essential building blocks including extended educational curriculum, extracurricular activities, social opportunities, and transitional skills to help children reach their full potential.
